Cultural Revolution – New 3D Animation Construction

Owner of 40 years of accumulation in comic assets and creator of almost 10000 comic figures, Culturecom (343.HK) now globally launches the first social gaming platform Ucan.com to improve and expand its scope of service. Ucan.com offers a new channel for communications, throwing away the traditional method of using words and adopting a new form of interaction through animate 3D graphics; targeting on teenage groups and advancing a new culture for social network.

Under the leadership of Chairman Zhu Bang Fu, “The Father of Chinese Computer Science”, Culturecom opened many technology markets. Culturecom cooperated with English and American Anime Software companies, and worked hand in hand in exploiting new substitutes for traditional communication channels, revitalizing it with 3D anime engines and other interesting and innovative communication tools.
